Blood brings oxygen and nutrients to all the parts of the body so they can keep working. Blood carries carbon dioxide and other waste materials to the lungs, kidneys, and digestive system to be removed from the body. Blood also fights infections and carries hormones around the body. Blood is differentiated into types of A, B, O, AB groups. These blood types were discovered by Karl Landsteiner in 1900 and his birthday June 14 has been celebrated as blood donation day.
